Dating Violence	I felt like I had a right to look through my partner's phone. I felt comfortable with the person I'm dating having other friends. I physically hurt the person I am/was dating. I said hurtful things to the person I am/was dating. I believed I had a right to privacy even though I was dating someone.
Bullying	I hurt others physically. I pressured other students to do something I knew was wrong. I spoke badly about others behind their backs to hurt them. I tried to keep others out of the group because I didn't like them. I teased, threatened, or called other students bad names. I posted hurtful information about another student or threatened them on the internet.
Support System (used for all)	I stood up for someone who was being bullied. I felt comfortable telling friends to stop bullying other kids. I got help from a trusted adult. I felt hopeful that I could make a difference at my school. I believed that if I told my teachers about any aggression or bullying that's happening, they would do something about it. Students at my school tried to stop bullying. Our teachers tried to prevent bullying. I felt safe talking to a teacher or school employee about any bullying I've seen. I disagreed with a friend because I knew it was okay to do that. I felt confident that I could recognize and respond to any bullying I saw.
